INNOVATION THAT MATTERS

CONVENIENCE POULTRY

INTRODUCTION

Chicken is one of the most important source of protein when it comes to meat. With countless ways of preparing, many of which quick and easy yet very tasty, it seamlessly meets modern day requirements.

Chicken products are widely used in foodservice, industry and retail with a continuously increasing demand. Jan Zandbergen offers an extensive range of poultry products to meet this demand. Due to strategic partnerships we are able to continuously supply our customers with high quality products from Thailand and China varying from off the shelf products to tailor-made products that meet the needs of our clients. By centralisation of our storage and distribution facilities we are able to deliver quick and efficient.

JAN ZANDBERGEN

Jan Zandbergen 'Innovation that Matters' is one of the leading importers and exporters in Europe supplying a wide range of high quality meats including poultry to the foodservice, retail and industrial customers. Thanks to our global business partners we are able to guarantee a continuous flow of all products. By operating one of the most modern fully integrated production and storage facility in Europe, which meets the highest quality standards (BRC level A, QS and SKAL), we are able to deliver small and large quantities wherever and whenever desired.

Our Multi-Lingual team responds to markets trends and developments in the international meat -and poultry industry on a daily basis, bearing our customers' needs in mind. Customer satisfaction, flexibility and efficiency are some of the key elements in our market approach.

For retailers, foodservices, wholesalers and meat-processing companies who are looking for the best quality poultry and a reliable and strong supplier: Jan Zandbergen is the right partner!

Our chicken products respond to the growing demand of convenience which chefs all over the world are looking for. Reasons for this growing demand are a low availability of skilled workforce, a need for cost reduction, growing time pressure amongst chefs and a desire for flexibility and availability in products. How do our products meet this demand? They are already pre-cooked and Ready-to-(H)eat. And most important: incredibly delicious!

Our products are IQF frozen. That way you can take out what you need for the day without having to defrost the whole packaging. This way, you avoid food waste. Being frozen, you have a long shelf life. That leads to cost-effective purchasing. You always have some delicious chicken products in stock and ready to serve.

At Jan Zandbergen we collaborate closely with MHP (Mironivsky Hliboproduct) from Ukraine. It has one of the most modern production facilities in Europe. MHP is BRC grade-A certified and meets all strict European quality and safety standards. To ensure quality the company controls the complete supply chain. From growing corn and producing their own feed, to trading and raising poultry, Halal slaughtering and processing. You can be assured that the products are produced from A-grade chicken.

Under their brand Qualiko, they also supply a few convenience chicken products. With Qualiko you'll experience the quality of Ukrainian chicken.
